THE CLUB EXPERIENCE

More Than a Club - A Community

At The WildeWood Club, membership is about more than enjoying our beautiful facilities - it's about belonging to a welcoming community built around recreation, connection, and shared traditions.

From morning tee times and afternoon matches to summer pool days, meals at the pub, private celebrations at the club, junior camps, and social events with friends, WildeWood is designed for real life. Families grow here, friendships form naturally, and every generation finds a place to play, connect, and feel at home.

GOLF

From First Swings to Friendly Competition

Golf has always been at the heart of The WildeWood Club. From junior lessons and friendly rounds to monthly member tournaments and the annual Club Championship, WildeWood offers meaningful play for golfers of every level.

Designed by Russell Breeden and opened in 1974, our 18-hole Championship course winds through more than 160 acres of Columbia's rolling Sandhills terrain. With no parallel fairways and each hole framed by mature oak and pine trees, the layout is fair, enjoyable, and welcoming for both new and experienced players. Known for excellent course conditions and Tif-Eagle Bermuda greens, WildeWood offers a classic golf experience in a relaxed club atmosphere.

Golf at WildeWood is about more than scorecards. It's about friendships on the fairway, time with family, and traditions that carry from one generation to the next.
